

I can, I will, I must

I would if I could. You know, I might. I might not.
Do you think that I should? Well, if I have to then I've got to.
Must we do it right away? Can it wait? Would that be okay?
I need to go. I'll be back soon. Shall we meet later on today?

There's a party on Saturday night.
Yeah, I might go. I'm not sure.
Is your cousin going to be there?
I don't know. I have to call her.
We should go. It'll be fun!
Okay, can we meet there around eight?
When is it supposed to end?
It may go until pretty late.

I would if I could. You know, I might. I might not.
Do you think that I should? Well, if I have to then I've got to.
Must we do it right away? Can it wait? Would that be okay?
I need to go. I'll be back soon. Shall we meet later on today?

I had to study all weekend.
You did? You must be tired.
I couldn't go to work on Saturday. My boss was furious. I might get fired.
You must feel stressed! You've got to talk to him. Can you call him now?
I will this afternoon. First, I'd better let him calm down.

I would if I could. You know, I might. I might not.
Do you think that I should? Well, if I have to then I've got to.
Must we do it right away? Can it wait? Would that be okay?
I need to go. I'll be back soon. Shall we meet later on today?

You should have gone to the game. You missed an excellent match today.
You could have sent me a text to remind me. I would have joined you right away.
You're right. My bad. I should have. You must have known about it, though.
Actually, I didn't.
There's a game next week. You ought to go.